NOTE FOR THE FILE

The undersigned spoke with Mr. John Siebert, Department of Justice, who is currently reviewing for the Administration our proposed amendments to the Federal Tort Claims Act (H. 9219 and S. 2117).

Mr. Siebert said he would get back to me on Monday, but that it was everyone's feeling that all work on the bill was for naught, as the likelihood of consideration and passage this session by either House was next to nil. This is especially so as neither the full Senate nor House Judiciary Committee has yet marked up the bill.
